An extraordinary transit-oriented, mixed-use life-science campus

Welcome to the place where life and life science seamlessly converge, Discovery Station. Situated right in the bustling El Camino corridor of South San Francisco, Discovery Station is an innovative 15 acre mixed-use campus that combines purpose-built laboratory space, convenient retail options, and modern residential offerings, all within a vibrant, interconnected community.

Discovery Station is where the pursuit of scientific break throughs meets everyday life. This visionary campus offers an expansive campus alive with potential, where people at the forefront of science can live, work and play, while staying deeply connected to the human lives that drive their discoveries.

Envision an 850,000 square foot Class A life science campus centered around three six-story buildings. Imagine thoughtful on-site amenities that include cafes, a fitness club, outdoor lounges, a woodfired pizza restaurant, and a 24-hour grocery store. Within walking distance to public transport including BART and Caltrain, and easy access to major highways 380, 280, and 101, ample parking - Discovery Station is uniquely designed for convenience, community and connectivity.

DESIGN PHILOSOPHY

Designed for real science and real life

Discovery Station is designed to address the isolation typical of scientific environments. A 24-hour, truly mixed-use development it offers a state-of-the-art life science development that's infused with the energy of everyday life. This is a place where real science meets real life.

- A large social square fosters community and engagement
- Surrounding spaces create a sense of comfort and feelings of home
- Ultra-flexible lab facilities are built to meet today's needs while staying wide open to tomorrow's possibilities
- Private individual spaces and smaller-scale amenities provide a balance to communal interaction

SUSTAINABILITY

A deep commitment to sustainability

Since the health of the planet is directly linked to human well-being, environmental sustainability is essential to creating cutting-edge life science developments. By integrating sustainable technologies into every aspect of Discovery Station, we're creating healthy spaces that move science forward without compromising our planet's future.

- LEED Gold
- WELL Certified
- ½ mile walk to BART
- Water Use Reduction: 50% Outdoor and 50% Indoor Reductions
- Rooftop Solar on Parking Structure
- 150 EV Charging Stations
- Biophilia inspired accessible garden terraces
